Applicants: please note

Before completing this application form, you should have read the Hannah Barry Memorial Award guidelines.

The Hannah Barry Memorial Award is a single award open to current undergraduate University of Melbourne students including those from the Faculty of Fine Arts and Music.

An applicant's creative work must be based in the performing arts and will be awarded on artistic merit. The award is to assist the recipient in the development of creative work in the performing arts.

The award is named after a talented actor and artist who was a student of the former School of Creative Arts at The University of Melbourne. Hannah died in June 2002. The purpose of the award is to provide an opportunity, by travel or otherwise, for the successful undergraduate student to undertake creative work for the purposes stated in their application. The award will fund the creative development phase of a proposal. The work may be produced in any performing arts form and any language.

The project must be realised within 12 months of the recipient receiving the money, and the application must demonstrate to the selection committee that the project is both creatively worthy and financially and logistically achievable. The prize money cannot be used to fund retrospective projects.

If you have any questions in regards to the creative aspects of your proposal, please contact artistic@union.unimelb.edu.au
